In your paper, include an introductory paragraph. Next, you will summarize the topics covered in the event and or meeting in your own words. You can focus on the main topics. Finally, write a conclusion paragraph.

This can be by attending any type of civic engagement around politics online or in person if you prefer. This includes but is not limited to attending a board meeting, council meeting, political rally, campaigning for a candidate, public meeting about any community issue such as tax increases, etc. I will provide several ideas, and you are welcome to present an idea to me for approval.

Your paper should have Then you will provide an analysis of the participation. The analysis should be as extensive as the summary. This should include the following and add other impressions you might have: your impression of the event, how effective was it, what were some strong points, what were some weaknesses, what would you change, was it what you expected, what are some topics that are covered in our units that you saw at work here, will you attend an event like this in the future, do you think this type of event is a good political exercise, was it engaging (why or why not), etc.

Please see the attached rubric to guide in your writing.
